CREATE THE WORKING LIFE
YOU LOVE

Pre-Christmas Workshops
December 7th & 8th 2010

We'll spend more than one third of our lives working so it's little wonder many of us strive to find a job we love, spending time doing something that is both personally and professionally rewarding

Before another year ends, take the time to consider what you want from your working life.

Attend one of our special workshops and discover how to bring together your values with your career aspirations to create a really meaningful working experience.

This is a unique opportunity to join Pamela Sutton-Legaud as she shares her experiences and challenges of making the change from the commercial world to the charity sector bringing together her values with her working life.

It's also a great opportunity to network with likeminded people to share stories and ideas.
